

General Education Online Breaks Alexa.com top 100,000

The Internet (2002-06-26)

In June 2002, General Education Online finally broke the top 100,000 on <http://www.alex.com>. If you would like to see a screen capture, take a look <http://www.findaschool.org/images/ranking-top-100k.jpg>.

Such a ranking puts it ahead in the rankings of such organizations as Goodrich, Simple End User Linux, and Micromuse.

General Education Online is an open-source project started in 1995 by Michael Viron which provides a database of more than 8,100 educational facilities worldwide.
