

New York City Plane Crash - Moment of Silence

The Internet (2006-10-11)

Today, a plane has crashed into a residential building in New York City. At least one fatality is confirmed at this time. We ask that visitors to our website join us in a moment of silence. A more detailed press release will be issued as details are forthcoming. Please visit <http://www.cnn.com/2006/US/10/11/plane.crash/index.html> for information as it becomes available.

Michael Viron
President & CEO
General Education Online